

GLOBAL HEALTH
COALITION

We have a moral imperative to improve healthcare outcomes in under resourced countries. Empowering global health organizations with portable Electronic Medical Records is the first step in leveling the playing field.

THE GLOBAL HEALTHCARE CHALLENGE

U.S. led global health organizations are working with minimal resources to provide healthcare to remote communities. With limited funding, spotty access to power, and a large technological barrier, the implementation of an EMR in a health clinic in a developing country seems unachievable.

WHAT WE DO

Global Health Coalition is a 501(c)3 nonprofit strengthening health clinic IT infrastructure in developing countries. We provide an all-in-one, portable electronic medical record (EMR) system that can be set-up and operated by non-technical individuals. EMR's drive efficiency in healthcare delivery by providing a mechanism to manage patient care longitudinally, facilitating medication inventory management, and creating a registry of data. Using the data from the EMR, we provide data visualization and analytics which enable our partners to improve health outcomes for both patients and their respective communities.

SERVICES

- Needs assessment of a health clinic and the surrounding community
- Deployment and maintenance of the electronic medical record system
- Portable hardware and sustainable power solutions customized for trip
- Data visualization, analytics and export function provided in user dashboard

OUR TEAM

Global Health Coalition understands the needs of global health organizations and the complexities of IT healthcare.
